STAFDA Application

My Professional Goals

My goals in the next five years are goals of mine that will have me set for rest of my career. The first goal of mine is to graduate with a job already lined up that way I am able to get my feet under me as soon as possible. I don't know what specific industry within the options that I specifically want to go into, however I do believe the construction sales industry would best fit me based off my past experience. Another goal of mine within the next five years would be working my way into the management team for the company I am working for. Whether it is on the branch manager route, account manager, or a regional sales manager, any experience in management would help me propel up the ladder. An ultimate goal of mine is to have my own business someday so I need all of the management experience I can get.
