STAFDA's 47th Annual Convention & Trade Show

The NextGen Network Speed Interviewing Session

November 5, 2023 ♦ 1:45-3:30 p.m.
Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center

Submission Deadline: Friday, October 20, 2023

What is Speed Interviewing? Much like the concept of speed dating, Speed Interviewing is a quick interview experience with college students who have an industrial distribution, supply chain, or construction management major. STAFDA will post universities and student resumes to its website as they register.

How does it work? Members will man a table and have 15 minutes to talk to a student about a job or internship before the student rotates to a different table.

Students will be instructed to bring copies of their resumes and members should bring business cards, line cards, marketing materials, or other company collateral.

Why is it an important event? In today's tight labor pool, attracting the next generation is critical! As students get ready to enter the job market, this gives members a golden opportunity to source students for entry-level positions who have a distribution or supply chain education!

If you are looking for talent, what better way than personally meeting, interviewing, and networking with students who are already familiar with the supply channel?

Don't miss this opportunity!

To participate, please register by completing the information below. There is no additional cost to this event (but you must be registered to attend STAFDA's San Antonio Convention & Trade Show). Once registered, you are committed to participate as an interviewer. Please respond by October 20.
