STAFDA Application Essay

As someone who has lived across multiple countries, I am fascinated on how different characteristics interact and come together to form the big picture. This is what paved the way on my pursuit towards a Supply Chain education. I enjoy looking at the small pieces and how to add value to an operation whether it be in the realms of purchasing, warehousing, distribution, or logistics. As a people's person, I enjoy collaborating with teams to execute and enhance efficient processes. Moreover, my professional aspirations mainly target Industrial organizations whether it be power, construction, manufacturing, transportation, and oil & gas etc. Additionally, with my background on living in multiple countries, I primarily would prefer to work with a multinational firm that works towards making the world a better place through their operations and products.
