What are your professional aspirations and goals for the next five years?

I am currently working in Indirect Procurement as an intern at Clarios. I am getting experience in running RFQ's, Benchmarking, I developed a packaging strategy for us, I utilize PowerBI, excel daily, and now assisting my manager in a very important Uniform Project where I will utilize ZYCUS a procurement saaS software and get trained in other solutions like SAP and Maximo. With all this experience as I graduate I want to go into an entry-level program that will challenge and develop my skills to move further in my career. After a one year program I am ready to start in a company's procurement department. While developing my career I also expect myself to be fluent in Spanish within the next 1-3 years and will be able to utilize those skills in my career after the entry-level program. The area/region I desire to live in is east-coast, a city like Boston would be ideal.
